Hi, my name is John Green. I'm the host of the new show Crash Course, well co-host I guess with my brother Hank. I'll be teaching you world history. Hank will be teaching you biology. But, there are currently no videos on this channel. Our goal is make Crash Course the most fun you have ever had learning, so subscribe now, even though there are currently no videos: there will be, I promise in January. And then you will get to find out what's hiding in the secret compartment of my fake fireplace. Best wishes. I don't want to brag, but I could be a contestant on The Price is Right.
