Last time on "Hank Green Plays Assassin's Creed: Brotherhood 2.0," I killed a lot of French people to steal their armor, and then I... uh... I took over a Borgia tower in a somewhat inelegant fashion, because I killed the wrong dude.

(0:13) Pouches! Yes? No. Can I get the big one? Knife belt upgrade. Yes. I want that. Yes. Heavy sheath, yes, so I can have a giant thing; I have been wanting that for a while. Smoke! Oh, I can't afford a smoke bomb pouch? Oh, so expensive! Medium quiver. Medium quiver. Dye clothes. Ember. Ooh, that's pretty. Ooh, that looks like Link from Zelda. Nice. I'm gonna be Link-y. Gonna get all "Linked" up. I'm pretty now. I could also dye my cape. Ooh! And I was gone for a second. Ooh, I won't even, I'm not even going to recognize myself in this outfit.

(1:08) Oh, there's a Leonardo table up here. I need to go to that. Let's get... I don't even... Where am I? Like a suburb of Rome? Did they have suburbs back then? What is this? Is this a, is this a... What is this? Oh! One of these.

(1:35) Oh, what happened. Ezio. Be on guard, man, on guard! Oh great. Like a thousand more people just showed up. And this is a... If you don't know what I'm doing, I'm... This guy was having trouble with the guards, and he... If I kill all the people he was fighting with, then I get to recruit him as an assassin. Wow, that last one was awesome! So you are now my new assassin friend. What is going on. Give me your hand.

(2:12) (New assassin: Messere, you have saved me! Only allow me the honor that I may serve you!) Yes! I will allow that honor. Where are all the bodies?! I needed their crossbow bolts! Frickity frack. Frickity frack.

Okay, there's a Leonardo bench right up here. Not that one. But this one. I'm gonna sit on this bench.

(2:41) Now technically in the story line, this wouldn't have worked. (Leonardo: Cesare's banker has been killed.) Oh, what a surprise. (Leonardo: His battle plans are in shambles.) laughs (Leonardo: On second thought, let's stick with the inventions.) That's a good thought, Leonardo. Invent me something! Climb leap... That's the thing I need! I can't afford it!! I need a bank!

(3:14) Ugh. Okay. I need a bank right now, 'cause he's only gonna wait a few more hours, apparently. Okay. I need a bank. Where is a nearby bank. This is probably the nearest one. That's not that nearby, but... If I'm on a horse, it'll go faster. So... lemme call my horse. Hello horsey. Thank you. Let's go.

singing Gotta get to the bank and then get back to Leonardo before a few more hours expire. speaking Drop your box, you don't need that box. Who needs it.

(3:59) Banco. Banco publico. Yes, I will renovate the bank so I can get my ten thousand florins out of the bank. Rome's... I... so much florins per twenty minutes. Let's talk. Let's talk about my money. It's... That's what I needed. Okay. That's all I wanted.

(4:23) Yes, he's already here, Ezio, you don't need to call him. Now run back to the other side of the village! singing Run run run
