Lydia: Mom is throwing a fit and making Jane kick me out so I'll go back home.

Jane: Don't say that. It was nice of Mom to let you stay this long anyway.

Lydia: I'm an adult, I can make my own decisions!

Jane: Yes, yes you are an adult. So, when Mom threatens to donate all of your clothing that you left in her house unless you go back to classes, you can absolutely make the decision to let her.

â€‹Lydia: (sighs) Fine.

Jane: I packed you a lunch for the road. Please don't eat while you drive, pull over somewhere safe, and text me when you get home. Don't look at me like that. I'm not around to help you anymore, so let me do what I can.

â€‹Lydia: It's okay, I'm used to looking out for myself anyway, no big.

Jane: Do you really feel like that?

â€‹Lydia: No, I was just kidding. You're the best.

Jane: One of the best.

â€‹Lydia: Yeah, okay, Lizzie's alright too.

Jane: I saw how you stepped in after I left - you really are growing up. Except when you occasionally leave in the middle of the night and not tell anybody, but...

â€‹Lydia: And soon I'll be 21! Holla!

Jane: Oh gosh, um. Please look after yourself.

â€‹Lydia: Lizzie's not the only one that misses you, you know.

Jane: I know, I miss you all too.

Lydia: And if you find Bing Lee, you better tell me so me and Lizzie can come back out here and kick him in the--

Jane: Lydia, I'm fine! I'm fine. Go home, go back to classes, and call me the next time you need me. Keep making your videos, too.

Lydia: Okay. I will see all of you later! Or you'll see me. And Mary. Yay!

Jane: Yay!

Lydia: Say "bye", Jane!

Jane: Bye! (laughs)
